DETAILED ACTION

An error in the mailing date of this action was noted and the action is being resend with a new mailing date. The time period for reply will be restarted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 11, 15, and 16, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EP '510.

EP 184510 discloses an apparatus for operating first and second commodity trailer hopper trap doors 3, 4, comprising: a support frame (such as the walls seen in Figures 2 and 3) extending between a first end and second end; first and second driveshaft assemblies 9 rotatably connected to the support frame proximate the first and second ends, respectively, wherein the first and second driveshaft assemblies 9 are configured to be coupled to the first and second commodity trailer hopper trap doors 3, 4, respective; a single motor assembly 13 attached to the support frame; and first and second linking mechanisms 7a, 8a coupled between the motor assembly and the first and second driveshaft assemblies, respectively; wherein the motor assembly is operable to move the first and second linking mechanisms 7a, 8a to thereby rotate the first and second driveshaft assemblies, respectively, and thereby operate the first and second commodity trailer hopper trap doors, respectively.

With regard to claim 2, the apparatus further comprises first and second engagement mechanisms 11, 12 operable to couple the first and second linking mechanisms, respectively, to the first and second driveshaft assemblies, respectively.

With regard to claim 11, the first driveshaft assembly comprises a lobed handle 14 coupled to the first driveshaft assembly for allowing manual rotation of the first drive shaft assembly.

For claim 15, EP '510 discloses an apparatus for operating first and second commodity trailer hopper trap doors 3, 4, comprising: first and second means 7a, 8a, 7b, 8b for operating first and second commodity trailer hopper trap doors respectively; means 13 for driving the operating means; means (such as walls seen in Figures 2 and 3) for supporting the operating and driving means; and first and second means 11, 12 for linking the driving means to the first and second operating means, respectively.

With regard to claim 16, EP '510 further comprises first and second means (not numbered, shown in Figures 2 and 3) for engaging the first and second linking means 11, 12 with the first and second operating means 7a, 8a, 7b, 8b, respectively.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 13-14 are allowed.
4. Claims 3-10 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 12/20/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to EP 018450, the applicant argues that the reference does not disclose a motor assembly and further that element 13 is not a motor assembly but simply a threaded rod which does not constitute a motive force. The examiner disagrees and believes that with a manual force input by a user upon the wheels 14, the element 13 can act along with the wheels as a motive force to move drive shaft 9 and open or close the hopper doors.

Secondly, with regard to the argument that there is no linking mechanism, the examiner points to elements 7a and 8a of the EP '450 reference. These "levers" link to the element 13 to assist in opening or closing the hopper doors and therefore constitute a linking mechanism.

With regard to claim 2, the applicant states that there is no disclosure of any engagement or disengagement ability of elements 11 and 12 in the EP '450 reference. The examiner disagrees and believes the EP '450 reference discloses all of the elements of claim 2 as broadly recited and interpreted. Specifically, first and second engagement elements or mechanisms 11 and 12 are operable to couple the first and second linking mechanisms 7a, 8a, respectively, to the first and second driveshaft assemblies 9, respectively.

For claim 15, the applicant goes on to argue there is no means for driving the operating means in the EP '450 reference since there is no motor or driving element. The examiner disagrees and believes that the manual linkage can be considered a means for driving.

In response to applicant's argument that the reference fails to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., a motor or driving element for claim 15) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

With respect to claim 16, the applicant argues the reference fails to disclose any mechanism for engaging or disengaging the driving shafts of the apparatus. The examiner disagrees and believes that first and second means (not numbered, shown in Figures 2 and 3) for engaging the first and second linking means 11, 12 with the first and second operating means are clearly shown. In view of the foregoing response to the applicant's arguments the rejections set forth above are hereby maintained.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
